Learning with iPads has made a difference in children with special needs at Angel's Center. Josh Redmond from Australia donated 5 iPads which have helped these children to explore their potentials and capabilities. Most of these children have been able to learn many educative items such as preschool kids' nursery rhymes, preschool fruits learning like banana, apples and pineapples, education, ABC animals and Tom adventures among others with great assistance from their teachers.

As a result, this has helped children with Autism and Down syndrome to improve on concentration, have interest in learning and most especially they improve on cognitive development.

In the month of April, Angel's Center received visitors from the UK. Cathy and Angela who spent 3 days at the center. Their support involved equipping the therapy and sensory room. The stimulation equipment have improved the attention span of children especially Autism children.

Documentation of stories for Children with Special needs

During term 1 holiday, we conducted a home visits or community based rehabilitation in 6 homes of our children. The home visits involved capturing of stories and shooting small video clips of children and their caregivers. One of them was in Kiyuni Kyankwanzi where one of children Ambrose Bikingi comes from. Ambrose a 6 year old boy diagnosed with Celebral Pulse is from a vulnerable family that needs to be fully supported and empowered in order to get out of despair condition. The aim of the CBR was to create more awareness about disability and promote the rights of people with disability especially children.

Transformation story of Allen Komugisa

“I am a special grandmother.”

This is a story of Kibira Naome aged 56years, the grandmother of Allen Komugisa. They stay in Bujjuko, Kyebando, Nansana in Wakiso district. She started by narrating her story to Angel's Center staff that Allen was abandoned by both parents.

Allen started staying with the grandmother right from birth because the mother was still a student and Allen's grandmother wanted her granddaughter to continue with studies. She was born normal in Mulago hospital. At the age of 2 months, Allen got malaria and was admitted in Mulago Hospital for 4 months. "Being given a wrong medication brought a brain damage in Allen's life, Grandmother exclaimed". From then, Allen got a delayed development. She could not crawl, and stand in different development milestones like other children. After realizing that Allen could not crawl, stand and walk, the grandmother had to take her back to Mulago Hospital for physiotherapy. "Allen started seating at 8 months and walking at 4 years her grandmother explains".

In 2014, Allen joined Angel's Center where she has attained most of early learning development milestones such as Activities of daily living , self-help skills for instance she assists with bathing, going to the latrines without adults' supervision and her social interaction has greatly improved compared to previous time.

The grandmother has observed many changes in Allen for example she now understands people, she is a very clean girl and likes bathing every time.

Allen's grandmother is very thankful to Angel's Center director and staff for their commitment towards the children with mental disability. Angel's Center staff has a very good team work towards
